Favre retires from county, will be honored with his own 'Day' in the Bay

Eddie Favre has retired after decades of public service.

Eddie Favre — the man NBC News described as “The calm at the center of the storm” after Hurricane Katrina in 2005 — announced last week he is retiring as Hancock County’s administrator; and his friends announced this week he will be honored with “Eddie Favre Day” on Oct. 14.

“Unfortunately, for most of the last nine months or so, I’ve had a few bumps in the road, some medical issues, and unfortunately, I still have a few more to deal with, although it’s a lot better now than it has been,” Favre said Friday. “I want to spend more time with our babies, take the time to spend with them. We find out sometimes that life’s too short.”

Favre was appointed as the county administrator six years ago, but he’s still better known far and wide as the former mayor of Bay St. Louis, a position he held for 20 years — and his brother, Mike Favre, holds now.

“Total-wise, it’s right at 42 years when we started all this mess, and I’m so thankful — especially to the folks of Bay St. Louis who elected me and kept me in office for 20 years,” Favre said, “and the folks at the county who put me here and worked with us all these years.”

The 26th annual Cruisin’ the Coast has kicked into high gear, with more than 9,000 registered vehicles and thousands more spectators and un-registered cars — and a lot of those are headed to Hancock County over the next four days.

Local officials expect thousands in attendance, so plan for congestion in the area along with the marked road closures in Old Town Bay St. Louis Thursday through Saturday.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club, and the Hancock County Historical Society recently registered a 104-year-old live oak tree with the State of Mississippi. The tree is located on Martin Luther King Park, Bay St. Louis. The oak was lovingly given the official name, “Roots.” The christening was a beautiful ceremony, hosted by Retrofit Community Organization. Ms. Sandra Price, organization member said, “she will always remember the 24th day of September, the day the mighty oak tree came alive on Martin Luther King Park.”

Candice Payne Johnson served as mistress of ceremony and welcomed everyone in attendance. The occasion was opened with a powerful prayer given by Arthur Clementine. Registration of the tree was addressed by Anita Warner with the Bay-Waveland

Hancock County School District to Earn First New Grade since the Start of the Pandemic

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County School District will earn a B rating for its performance in the 2021-22 school year when the Mississippi State Board of Education approves official grades for Mississippi schools and districts on Thursday, Sept. 29.

Mississippi's schools and districts are graded on an A-F scale. The grades are part of the state's accountability system, which helps teachers, school leaders, parents and communities know how well local schools and districts are serving students.

The Hancock County School District's improved grade is largely due to the progress students made during the 2021-22 school year, rebounding after achievement declined in the first year of the pandemic. Hancock County Schools were also assigned grades and the following are the scores by school:

East Hancock Elementary: A

Hancock North Central Elementary: A

West Hancock Elementary: A

South Hancock Elementary: B

Hancock Middle School: D

Hancock High School: A

Proficiency rankings regarding the district's 2021-2022 MAAP scores are as follows:

School Rankings:

East Hancock Elementary, Grade 3 ELA, ranked #7 among all the elementary schools in the state.

East Hancock Elementary, Grade 5 Math, ranked #10 among all the elementary schools in the state.

Hancock High School, Algebra I, ranked #7 among all the high schools in the state.

District Rankings:

HCSD English II ranked #18 among all the school districts in the state!

HCSD Grade 5 Math ranked #16 among all the school districts in the state.

HCSD Grade 3 Math ranked # 15 among all the school districts in the state, HCSD Algebra I ranked #3 among all the school districts in the state.

“We congratulate our schools that received A ratings and appreciate the hard work of the teachers, students, parents, community supporters and administrators,” Mr. Rhett Ladner, Interim Superintendent, shared. He continued, “The fact of the matter is that we are not where we would like to be. Our Curriculum and Instruction team, administrators and district leadership team are all working to identify area of need and working together on a plan for improvement in the areas identified. We have proven to be an A district in the past and we will strive to make all of our schools A schools, providing our students with the best educational experience they each deserve and helping each of them experience academic success.”

Statewide, Mississippi students made more progress than they typically do in one year as schools focused on accelerating learning after the first year of the pandemic. However, key factors including a student achievement decline in 2020-21, testing waivers, and one-year adjustments to the accountability system played a role in 2021-22 school and district grades. Therefore, the Mississippi Department of Education (MDE) advises caution when interpreting score changes between the 2018-19 and 2021-22 school years. In particular, substantial shifts in performance may be temporarily influenced by factors associated with pandemic disruptions.

The MDE emphasizes the importance of looking at the individual components that contribute to school and district grades to get a more complete picture of student growth and achievement, particularly student proficiency levels.

Mississippi's school grading system considers many indicators, including how well students perform on Mississippi Academic Assessment Program (MAAP) tests for English Language Arts and Mathematics in grades 3-8 and high school, whether students are showing improvement on those tests from year to year, and whether students are graduating within four years. The system also factors in performance on the ACT and advanced high school courses and how well schools are helping English learners and the lowest-achieving students make progress toward proficiency.

Stennis Space Center Sustainability Team Receives Prestigious Blue Marble Award

SEA COAST ECHO

As attention to climate and environmental issues grow more and more urgent, NASA's Stennis Space Center is emerging as a leader in sustainability, evidenced by a recent prestigious recognition.

NASA recently honored the Stennis Sustainability Team with a Blue Marble Director's Award for its leading work in energy reduction across the south Mississippi center. Stennis. Sustainability Team Lead Alvin Askew accepted the award during a Sept. 20 ceremony at NASA's Langley Research Center in Hampton, Virginia. Overall, eight agency teams and individuals were recognized for environmental excellence and leadership during the ceremony.

The high-level agency award affirms a concerted ongoing effort by Stennis not only to meet federally established energy reduction goals but to establish and maintain sustainability practices across the federal city site. The scope and success of the work is reflected in an annual Sustainability Report and Future Plan.

Stennis specifically was highlighted during the recent awards presentation for its use of Geospatial Information System (GIS) technology to reduce energy usage and costs. Use of this technology helped reduce overall energy usage at Stennis by 3.5% in the most recent year of record.

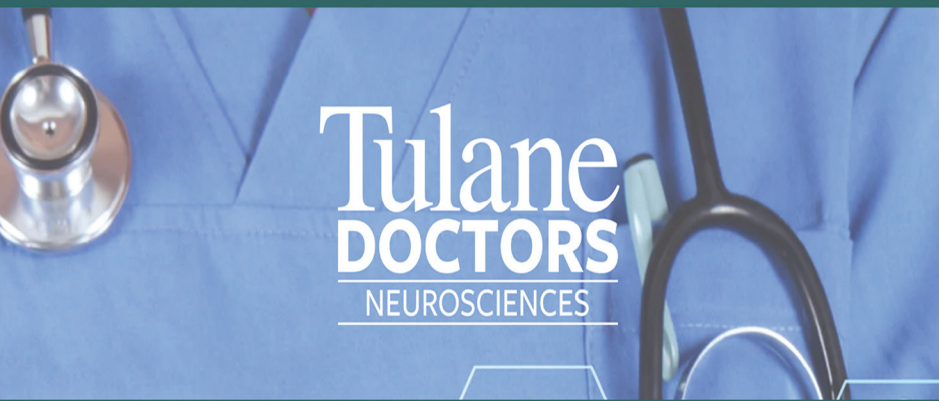

The sustainability team used the GIS technology to create a Stennis Energy Intensity Map that shows buildings sitewide in a color-coded format to indicate levels of energy intensity or usage. A click on the map shows a building's current energy intensity, along with data from the previous two years. The data shows trends in energy usage, identifies areas of needed focus, and confirms success of the team's reduction efforts.

The map also has helped the team award a contract to complete Existing Building Commissioning on 10 buildings at Stennis. Existing Building Commissioning is a systematic process for assessing, optimizing, and verifying the performance of a building's systems. The 10 Stennis projects are estimated to provide energy, as well as operations and maintenance, savings of more than $300,000.

In addition, the sustainability team used the GIS map to implement the first utility energy service contract at Stennis. The Stennis contract focuses on the site's High Pressure Industrial Water Facility and is expected to achieve enough energy reduction to pay back an initial $600,000 investment in four-and-one-half years, followed Garden Club. Paula Fairconnetue explained the significance of the name, “Roots.” She explained that “roots” is defined in Webster’s Dictionary as being grounded, or connected. A person’s roots are his or her original, or true home, environment and culture. Our roots give us a sense of identity of knowing where we came from with respect to ancestors and culture. Just as the branches of a tree strengthens and grows upward to the sky, our prayer is that all children grow strong, strive for greater knowledge, wisdom, and new experiences as they move through life. With God’s grace, may all people, no matter what age, stay grounded in their life and their faith. Let’s stay focused on the present, be strong in your sense of self-worth, and reconnect with what’s important to you. In addition, Mrs. Roma Parker Smith recited a dramatic rendition of “The Mighty Oak Tree” poem, followed by Reverend Jeffrey Reed deliverance of a biblical blessing of the tree.

Mrs. Etta Mae Williams, a longtime Bay St. Louis resident and elder of the community, was in attendance at the christening of the live oak. She is “cruising into 93 years of living,” celebrating under the shade of the majestic 104-year-old oak tree at MLK Park in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Williams was among those in attendance on Saturday, September 24th when Retro-Fit and Friends of MLK Park (organized by Sandra Price) registered the impressive oak with the State of Mississippi with the intention of recognizing, protecting and conserving the beautiful oak, which is befittingly named ‘Roots’. Ms Etta, as she is affectionately called, was born in Fenton, MS on September 26, 1929. At a young age her family moved to Bay St. Louis, where she attended Valena C Jones School, which served as a major institution for educating black students. The building is presently going through the process of being designated as a historical building and site. In her adult life, Ms Etta married Bay St. Louis resident Ulysses (Hoss) Williams, and together they raised eight children in Bay St. Louis.

included serving in the capacity of cook and domestic for many prominent Bay St. Louis residents, including mayors, physicians, and lawyers. She retired from St. Thomas Catholic Church in Long Beach, after 18 years of service.

Recalling her life in earlier years, Ms Etta said, “There was a strong sense of community and pride. Neighbors, family, and friends were always willing to lend a hand, and look out for each other. The community, as a whole would benefit from going back to some of the life lessons, self-respect and pride taught by grandparents and great parents,” she adds.

Ms Etta recalls an organization called Children of Charity, which benefitted a lot of black families in assistance with physician visits, and medication costs. Also, the only place Blacks could gather and enjoy the beach in the Bay-Waveland area was at Gulfside Methodist Assembly. And of course, there are memories of lots of fun times at the 100 Men’s Hall, which was a vibrant and strong hub for the black community. Ms. Etta says the cost of admission was sometimes as low as 75 cents.

Travelling with her family is something she enjoys still. Some of her many escapades have taken her to the Great Smoky Mountains, Grand Canyon, Niagara Falls in Canada, walking across the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma Al (several times!), MLK Civil Rights Museum in Memphis, the Apollo Theater, Tuskegee Airman Museum, and the White House. She’s had the honor of meeting former President Jimmy Carter, and the Late Congressman John Lewis. She has participated in local MLK Day marches and celebrations.

Ms Etta enjoys sitting on her porch and waving to passerbys. She’s still active in her yard, and riding her bicycle. And, she’s ALWAYS up to a quick visit to the casino. In her words, ‘Not too bad for an old woman’.

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

'DO AS I SAY..'

If you don't know by now, dear reader, I think my nephew is the most awesome little human. Don't worry, he too is well aware of my feelings on the matter. For example, last Friday, I made an extra trip to Game Stop after work to pick up a new Nintendo plushie for him. I sent him a picture of it. He said, "thank you for sending proof" and "I'm so glad I don't owe Cass Cass any money."

He is always making us laugh for one reason or another.

Perhaps, one of my most favorite moments is when he questions something his parents told him.

You know, they tell him not to do something and then he sees them do the same thing they just told him not to do. Well, he lets them know and asks why they get to do it. When he does that, they don't really tell him he's wrong, because he's not.

Of course, the whole "do as I say, not as I do," concept has always been something I think about.

For one example, during my whole life, my parents told me not to use curse words. Well, I used to hear them using them and then once adulthood started, curse words became some of my favorite words.

Adults will tell teenagers that they don't need alcohol to have fun, etc. But then turn around and host fundraisers with alcohol and promote other events that are centered around alcohol.

So what you're maybe saying is that you don't need to alcohol to have fun, but you may need it to raise some money or you will need it to have fun once you turn 21.

I mean, what's the lesson here?

No, I'm not advocating teen drinking, but maybe adults should set more of an example, rather than just shouting orders and scaring young adults into this weird submission.

Why do we expect so much perfection out of our youngsters?

Lord knows, adults are very, very, very far from perfect.

My Mama still gets onto me for using bad words when I'm on the phone with her and my road rage kicks in.

When I taught preschool, I learned that while

Hancock History:
The Antebellum
Commercial Port of New Orleans

In 1718, Bienville determined that the capital of the French colony of Louisiana would be New Orleans. This strategic site on the Mississippi River afforded a transshipment port with waterborne access to the Mississippi and Pearl River Valleys as well as ocean-going ships from all over the Atlantic World. Local commercial traffic with the Gulf Coast could approach the Crescent City via Lake Pontchartrain and Bayou St. John. The early agricultural economy of the Louisiana Colony offered raw materials to the occasional ship from the mother country (France) such as peltry (animal hides), lumber, pitch, and tar (naval stores). Early farm crops of tobacco, indigo, and rice were planted. By the mid-18th century, planters in these river valleys were producing commodities of cotton, corn, maize, beans, myrtle wax candles, and wheat from the Illinois Colony. French ships brought merchants offering cloth, wine, brandy, liquors, arms, and meal. Nevertheless, only about 15 French ocean-going ships would dock at the French Quarter waterfront each year in the early years of the city's existence. Local traffic from the Gulf Coast was more active. During the second half of the 18th century a plantation agriculture economy evolved in this region with emigration of peasant farmers and negro slaves.

It was not until the turn of the 19th century that the port of New Orleans began to reach its potential and launch into the world economy. In his thoughtful history, "Bienville's Dilemma," Tulane University Geography Professor Richard Campanella explains that "Suddenly, New Orleans, for decades the orphan of two declining, distracted Old World colonial empires, now found itself strategically positioned to prosper under the dominion of an ascendant, unabashedly capitalistic New World democracy (USA). The number of merchants in New Orleans increased fifty-fold between the date of the Louisiana Purchase (1803) and 1809.

In Hancock County the population increased from 40 families to 3,139 souls from 1800-1860. A Great Migration of Anglo-American

about fall-standard pumpkins

As we move further into the fall season, I wonder if there is a more fitting and fun fruit than a pumpkin?

Pumpkins have become a major part of any autumnal or Halloween decoration. And who can resist a fresh pumpkin pie? I know I can't!

The standard pumpkin color for fall decorating has always been brilliant orange. But why limit yourself to just orange? Pumpkin colors include bright and bold red, yellow, white, blue and multicolored stripes. I'm even seeing bright-yellow pumpkins this year.

They can be miniature, flattened, necked, smooth, winged and warty. More and more independent garden centers are offering a wide array of decorative pumpkins (and gourds) for autumnal displays.

Besides their aesthetic qualities, there are some interesting facts about pumpkins you may not know.

While there are more than 150 different pumpkin species grown around the world, there primarily are only four species grown for autumn display. These four species have a multitude of selections, according to the University of Illinois Extension, which is my go-to source for pumpkin information.

First are Cucurbita moschata pumpkins, which are generally weight 5 to 10 pounds and often grown for processing. I'll talk more about canned pumpkin in a bit.

The Cucurbita mixta species shows tolerance for growing in the Southeast, which is good news for growers and pie bakers in Mississippi.

Cucurbita pepo pumpkins are used for carving scary faces and decorating. This species also includes summer squash and zucchini. Have you ever thought of carving that huge zucchini that didn't get picked in time?

Last is Cucurbita maxima, which includes pumpkins grown for size like the ones entered in giant pumpkin contests.

The top six pumpkin-producing states are Illinois, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and California, each of which have at least 90,000 acres in production, according to the Ag Marketing Resource Center. There are many small, specialty pumpkin growers in most states.

I promised more on canned pumpkins earlier. When I lived in Illinois, I was amazed at the amount of processing pumpkins being grown there. In fact, Illinois grows more than 95% of the nation's processing pumpkins.

Processing pumpkins are tough and aren't picked by hand. Most growers use mechanical harvesters resembling kids do need structure and rules, they also do not need, nor should they be expected to, to act like these rigid little soldiers.

Yes, it's important for them to learn the difference between right and wrong. But they also need to learn how to make their own decisions and how to deal with the consequences, whether good or bad.

They have a wide variety of emotions that they are learning to deal with, as well.

I mean, I know I still have urges to scream and throw things. Sometimes, when I'm alone, I do let those emotions out.

I believe it's important to let them feel their emotions. Don't punish them for acting human. Talk to them about why they are feeling that way and how to better deal with situations.

Oohh, I can almost hear the, "she doesn't have children, what does she know," comments now.

But, I'm also around young adults and I think we should all be trying to set the best example we can, whether we birth them or not. I also want them to know that I'm not perfect just because I'm older and an "adult."

We also see this "do as I say, not as I do," phenomenon in the adult world, as well. People in powerful positions telling others what not to do, but then when they do it, get nothing more than a slap on the wrist, if any consequence at all.

Or like those Sunday "Christians," who go to church and act one way and then completely discard their Christian ways during the rest of the week.

Or the boss person who does whatever they want, and lets certain employees get away with pretty much anything, but expects others to act perfectly accordingly.

I think my sister and brother-in-law are doing a great job raising my little nephew. He is the sweetest, smartest, and lovable most little boy.

One of my most favorite traits of his is the fact that he does question everything. I hope that is something he carries with him throughout his entire life.

I believe we should stop expecting perfection out of our youth, considering how often we as adults stumble and flail all the while exposing our hypocrisies. Try and set better examples of what it means to be a decent human despite our many flaws, not some weird and perfect Stepford version of a human.

"The essence of being human is that one does not seek perfection," George Orwell.

HISTORY

known as the Old Basin Canal. By the early 1820's, 80 local vessels (schooners, sloops), mostly from the Pearl River Valley and Gulf Coast, were reportedly using this canal daily. New Orleans was the market destination for Hancock County's agricultural products of cotton, wool, cattle, and timber.

The port of New Orleans under American ownership promptly experienced expanded trade with other American ports such as Boston, Philadelphia, and New York. These ocean-going trading vessels were sloops and schooners of 250 tons. In this port, domestic American commerce exceeded foreign commerce until 1830 when foreign commerce became dominant. Sailing ship visits to New Orleans in 1846 included 1,997 ships and brigs and 875 schooners. From 1840-1860 New Orleans commerce centered on cotton and the sale of slaves.

In conclusion, the Gulf Coast and Hancock County have always depended upon the marketplace of New Orleans for the financing, marketing, storage, processing, and shipping of commodities such as slave-labor plantation cotton, as well as wool, naval stores, cattle, and timber. A lot of middlemen in New Orleans and a significant number in Hancock County found gainful employment as agents, factors, lawyers, bankers and representatives of wealthy planters in this service sector of the economy. This dynamic emerging economy from this region of the South in the first half of the nineteenth century would not have occurred if the United States had not purchased and annexed the Louisiana Colony and the Gulf Coast.

PUMPKINS

shoot 10-pound pumpkins for distance. To me, most amazing was the Aludium Q36 Pumpkin Modulator air cannon that can shoot a pumpkin up to a mile.

Canned pumpkin is an essential ingredient for making any pumpkin pastry, including pumpkin pie. But unless the can says 100% pumpkin, it's likely a mixture of various pumpkin-like squash that have shorter fibers than many pumpkins, resulting in a smoother product.

A Bachman family favorite are homemade, roasted pumpkin seeds.

After carving your scary jack-o-lantern, save and thoroughly wash away the stringy tissue from the seeds. It doesn't matter the type of pumpkin you use, as the seeds of all pumpkins are edible.

Toss the cleaned seeds with melted real butter -- this recipe does not work with any make-believe butter substitutes -- sprinkle with sea salt and bake at 300 degrees. Keep a close watch until the seeds are slightly toasty in color.

It will be hard to do this, but let the seeds cool before you enjoy them.

- JOSEPH ALYSIUS DEVENNY III
- CARL FRICKE JR.

JOSEPH ALOYSIUS DEVENNY III

Joseph Aloysius Devenny III born on December 10, 1941, passed to eternal life on Thursday, September 22, 2022 at the age of 80. He was the only child of the late Joseph A Devenny Jr. and Melrose Boudreaux Devenny. Aside from his parents, he is preceded in death by many loving grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, his mother-in-law, and his father-in-law, all of whom spoiled him rotten.

He is survived by his wife, Cynthia Schomaker Devenny, his two sons, Darrell Joseph Devenny and Dylan Shane Devenny, his daughter in law, Leslie Wilson Devenny, his two grandsons, Richard Joseph Devenny and Conner Jacob Devenny and two great-grandchildren, Bryce and Rylee Devenny. He is also survived by his first wife, Charmaine Lindsley Devenny, two uncles by marriage, many cousins, five brothers-in-law, three sisters-in-law, and numerous nieces and nephews.

He loved to cook and was a collector of cookbooks, recipes, and kitchen gadgets. Born and raised in New Orleans, he knew good food. His family had been coming to Pass Christian for summers and weekends since he was a young boy. He permanently made “The Pass” his home in 1988.

He spent most of his career in the banking industry, working as a Senior Commercial Lender, specializing in real estate, and switched to the casino industry in the early to mid-nineties, officially retiring in May 2017.

His favorite past-time (pre-Katrina) was spending time on his pier, throwing his mullet net, and floundering. He greatly missed living on the beach, sitting on the porch (especially this time of year) watching the Cruisers go by. And most of all, he loved spending time with his family.

He was a good man, loved by many, and will be greatly missed by us all.

Per his request, he was cremated, and his remains will be buried at Cypress Grove Cemetery in New Orleans where his parents and grandparents are buried.

Family and friends are invited to a Memorial Mass at St. Paul Chapel, 140 East Scenic Dr, Pass Christian, MS 39571 on Saturday, October 8, 2022, at 11:00 am, with visitation at 10:00 am until Mass time.

Monkeypox Vaccination Self-Scheduling Now Available

SEA COAST ECHO

Eligible individuals can now make their own appointments for monkeypox vaccinations through the Monkeypox Vaccine Scheduler by visiting monkeypoxvaccine.msdh.ms.gov.

Appointments for monkeypox vaccination can be made at any of the nine designated county health department locations throughout the state. Both first dose and second dose appointments are available through the scheduler. Individuals can also still call the MSDH Call Center at 1-877-978-6453 to make an appointment. There is no charge for vaccination.

“Vaccination remains one of the best tools we have for the prevention of monkeypox,” said MSDH State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers. “If you think you are at risk, please take the important step of getting vaccinated.”

Individuals 18 years or older may be eligible for vaccination if they:

- Have been notified or are aware of close, intimate or sexual contact with someone diagnosed with monkeypox, OR
- Identify as gay, bisexual, or as

- other men who have sex with men, or are transgender individuals, and;
- Have multiple or anonymous sex partners, OR
- Attend events or venues where monkeypox may be transmitted (for example, by skin-to-skin contact or sex on-site), OR
- Are living with HIV, OR
- Have been diagnosed with a sexually transmitted infection (STI) in the prior 90 days.

If you are at risk for monkeypox, you can help prevent infection by avoiding close skin-to-skin or intimate contact with people who may be infected, and you should be vaccinated if you are eligible. If you develop a new or unexplained rash, especially if you have been in close contact with someone who has monkeypox, isolate at home and contact your healthcare provider for testing.

For more information on monkeypox, including a list of vaccination providers in Mississippi, visit HealthyMS.com/monkeypox.

thing of a national figure after Hurricane Katrina, famously wearing short pants to a black-tie event with then-President George Bush, vowing not to wear long pants again until Bay St. Louis had recovered from the storm.

Then, as now, he said he considered himself “blessed.”

“I’m so thankful to have had the opportunity to do what I’ve done for that 42-year period,” Favre said. “I’m not saying it’s all be great times — Katrina and all — but it’s been my pleasure for the past 42 years to serve the people of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis.”

Favre said that once he’s moved past his current health issues, he might be interested in getting back to work.

“Jokingly — you never say never — but who knows, I’d like to go back to doing a little bit of what I was doing before I went to work for the county, doing some consulting work,” Favre said. “There have been a lot of good times and hopefully, the good Lord willing, there’ll be a lot more.”

While Favre is stepping down from his duties for the county, he will be honored in Bay St. Louis next week with “Eddie Favre Day” on Friday, Oct. 14.

“Last year, when Eddie was having some pretty serious health issues, his sons Jonathan Favre and Jamie Favre and I were sitting at the hospital and talking about his legacy,” Favre’s friend Lonnie Falgout said Monday. “We talked about all he’s done, not just as mayor, but his philanthropy, his gift-giving, all the organization’s and causes he’s helped out, let alone rebuilding Bay St. Louis after Hurricane Katrina.

“We threw some ideas around, and one of the ideas was having an ‘Eddie Favre Day.’”

Falgout said members of the Bay St. Louis City Council prepared a special proclamation for the day, which was expected to be approved at last night’s council meeting.

There will be a ceremony on Friday, Oct. 14, beginning at 3:30 p.m. at the corner of Main Street and Beach Boulevard, in front of the Hancock Bank building.

“We thought, what better place,” Falgout said. “After Katrina, a few of us were standing downtown and there was no more Beach Boulevard. The only thing still standing was Hancock Bank, and that’s the day he vowed he would do everything he could to rebuild his town. That’s also the day he swore he’d wear shorts the rest of his life if it meant rebuilding the city.”

After the ceremony, attendees will be invited across the street to Dan B. Murphy’s Restaurant to visit with Favre and wish him well.

“It’s going to be a chance for everybody to wish him a long life and say thanks for the memories,” Falgout said, “thanks for rebuilding the city.”

Dealing with Natural Disasters

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

How do we deal with natural disasters? We have recently been through such an experience in a major portion of Florida as that beautiful state has been ravaged by a category 4 hurricane. Lives have been lost, property destroyed, normal activities have been disrupted, and many people remain at a loss as to what is next for them. Can they rebuild? Would it be better to relocate to a place that seems safer? How will the financial challenges be managed? These are real issues for real people, and they are not easily worked out. In our area we can identify with their plight from real experience.

Of course, the spiritual and theological questions quickly emerge. Why does God allow such destruction? Are there answers which satisfy our sense of justice and fairness? Do people get what they deserve, or is the fate of humanity a strictly random matter with no rhyme or reason whatever?

Many religious people like to declare that everything happens for a reason. They cling to the notion that a divine and perfect plan has been set in motion by a just God, and that faith will deliver us safely to the other side. The truth is that sometimes it may seem to work out like that, and sometimes it does not.

Phillip Yancey, a well-regarded writer in the field of spirituality, has offered a different approach. He cautions against confusing God with life. He says that it is possible, and even necessary, to hold to faith in a loving God while recognizing that life often contains a randomness which may defy our hopes and expectations. In other words, God is love. Life can be a random risk with both blessings and challenges.

This calls for an understanding of faith which is able to set aside what some call the “puppet-string” version of the divine/human relationship. It dismisses the idea that there is a holy puppeteer in the heavens manipulating all that happens on earth. Rather, it summons us to a more nuanced awareness of God as a being of comfort and guidance amid the confusing circumstances of life. This way of knowing God comes most often through messengers of love and help. Watching news coverage of the recent hurricane it becomes evident who those messengers are. They may or may not represent religious institutions. What they do have is a compelling desire to offer assistance, love, comfort, and practical resources to those who are most in need. The much beloved television teacher of children, Fred Rogers, used to remind his young followers to “look for the helpers”. This wise and gentle man with a solid theological education from Princeton University, understood a profound truth. God is not the author of pain, but divine agents, many wearing ball caps and rubber boots, work to bring healing and hope during hard and troubling circumstances. This is a meaningful example of the differences between God and life. It may be witnessed in Florida as noble souls work to bring hope to devastated lives in the wake of the storm. Let us be thankful for them, and for their expressions of the love of God in our world.

Following up on this success, the Stennis team worked with NASA Headquarters in Washington to convert an existing project into an agency-funded utility energy service contract. The new contract is expected to result in enough energy savings to pay back the $2.1 million investment in less than 12 years, with continued savings thereafter.

Such efforts are paying off with consistency at the center. Since the Stennis Sustainability Team was established, the site has been one of the top four achievers among NASA centers for energy use intensity reduction each year. It has developed and implemented projects to reduce sitewide facility energy use intensity from its baseline by as much as 48.6 percent.

The team also has reduced water usage by 45 percent since 2007, exceeding established reduction requirements. The team has contributed to agency-level reduction efforts as well, with Askew serving as the team lead for a NASA project to optimize the Energy and Water Support contract.

“I am very proud of the great Sustainability team we have at Stennis,” said Center Operations Director Patrick Appelman. “The work that resulted in this award will be a launchpad for significant energy savings at Stennis Space Center as well as all across NASA.”

The Stennis Sustainability team consists of NASA personnel and contract support. NASA members include: Team Lead Alvin Askew, Stennis Energy Manager Misy Ferguson, and Project Manager Kevin Stiede. Contract members include: Synergy-Achieving Consolidated Operations and Maintenance (SACOM) Contract sustainability champion Thomas Mitchell, SACOM energy lead Jordan McQueen, SACOM data analyst Rebecca Mataya, and GIS lead Kelly Boyd with Alutiiq Essential Services.

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws hosted the Lakeshore Titans in an interstate battle ‘between the walls’ at the Brother Philip Memorial Athletic Complex Friday night.

The Rocks (3-3) ran past the Titans 38-20 in the first meeting between the two schools in any sport.

The Titans (3-2), a 4A school from Mandeville, started the game on offense and marched 76 yards in seven plays to light the scoreboard first when Samuel Willie hit Colby Ziegler for a 52-yard scoring toss with 8:52 left in the first quarter. The PAT made the score 7-0.

The Rocks returned the favor when Chandler Chapman sprinted 69 yards for the score on the first play from scrimmage with 8:31 left in the first quarter. Noel converted the PAT to knot the score at 7-7.

On the Titans’ second possession of the game, they needed just five plays before Kyle Gegenheimer connected with Mason Gegenheimer for a 38-yard scoring aerial on a double-pass. The PAT was good giving the Titans a slim 14-7 lead.

The Rocks methodically moved down the field on a 11-play drive that ended with a 41-yard field goal to make the score 14-10.

The Rock defense held firm forcing a punt. But, the Rocks offense could not move the ball despite have a 12-play drive that ended at the Titan 6 yard line.

The Rock defense bowed up forcing a congested punt situation from the Titan 5 yard line.

The Titans punter had the ball snapped over-fishing head that resulted in a safety for SSC with 5:43 left in the half. The score was now 14-12.

The Titans kicked off to SSC which started their possession on the Titan 44 yard line.

The Rocks needed just three plays to get into the end zone on a 38-yard run by Chapman with 4:41 left in the game. A muffed snap forced a two-point conversion attempt that fell short leaving the score 18-14.

On the ensuing possession, the Titans got gains of 18 and 28 yards on the Willie to Ziegler hookup. Jacob Bradford decided against anymore completions sacking Gegenheimer for a six-yard loss. On the next play, Chapman stepped in from of a pass and intercepted the ball. After a Rock penalty, the ball was placed at the Rock 21 yard line.

Henry Nunmaker gained 11 yard while Chapman picked up 8 and 14 yards. Osborne found Dicerbo for a 20-yard gain followed by a 31-yard scoring toss to Ethan Galloway with 48 seconds left in the half. Noel’s PAT hit the left upright leaving the score 24-14 at intermission.

SHORE THING: MEN AT WORK

Shore Thing Fishing Report By Cpt. Sonny Schindler

Capt Alex McIngvale and myself had our hands full. We had a crew of “out of towners” that were looking to fish. When I say out of town, I mean waaaaay outta town. AUSTRALIA

Simon, Anthony And another Anthony were in town visiting their pals Nathan Sheets(Nature Nate’s Honey) and fellow honey business guy Ryan. The crew was super easy going, and they knew the seas were gonna be choppy. Capt Alex and I had one shot to make this work. Thankfully, they were all in a great mood. After staying at the Pearl Hotel and having a big time in downtown Bay St Louis they were ready to fish.

As we were leaving, we noticed pogies all around the entrance of Pass Christian Harbor. We each made a throw with our cast nets. We both filled our live wells with perfect hand sized pogies. Next was a 10 mile open water run. It was unpleasant, but not unbearable. Once we got to the area we would be fishing, getting set up was a chore. The wind, seas and current were all going in opposite directions. Alex got into position first, and before we had our anchor down, he had a big bull red on the line. The fish were there!

It took us a few more minutes, but we got our anchor to hold, we got on the big fish too. It was mostly huge bull reds, big jack crevalle, and some mammoth stingrays. No one wanted to keep fish. They just wanted to wrestle some big Fish. Alex and I tagged the reds, and photographed and released the other stuff.

Hands down, my favorite part of the day was hearing the Aussie’s stories about their country. It was just conversation of how their government, military, sports, hunting, and infrastructure worked. It was fascinating to learn about how things operate “down under”. Having our new friends fighting a bunch of big fish was an added bonus.

The Aussie’s were catching their long flight home after our fishing trip. It was really good to see Nathan and Ryan’s booming Honey business is hopefully reaching around the globe. They have done very for themselves, both on and especially off the water. Sounds like a busy, fun lifestyle. One we thing we learned, even living thousands of Miles apart is we have many things in common. Bee keeping, honey sales, charter fishing, I guess we are all Men at Work...

Just like last month, our first Tuesday of August was rained out. Bummer! Everyone one was set to play when, just as we were to tee off, the heavens opened and that ended that round of golf. We fared a bit better during the next two Tuesdays, August 9th and the 18th, as we held our Electic Tournament. Fourteen of our ladies signed up for this competition and six more because they could not play both days followed the field. The format for this tournament is that you play the first Tuesday and record your scores. The next Tuesday you play the same nine holes and record those scores. Then the best score for each hole on each of the days is the one that is recorded. Our winners this year were as follows: First Flight = 1st Place, Georgeann Luxion and 2nd Place, Therese Mauterer. In the Second Flight = 1st Place, Margaret Sherwood and 2nd Place, Shirley Halterman. The Third Flight winners were 1st Place = Kim Knight and 2nd Place, Dinah Knobloch. In addition, Kim Knight, in round two, scored a Chip-In on the third hole. On Tuesday, August 23rd, 18 gals started out with good intentions only to be, once again, rained out. Thus is typical summer weather in the south of Mississippi. There is always next week. A scramble was scheduled for the last Tuesday of the month. Low and behold, we actually got to play this round of golf. The Low Team Gross First Place Team was comprised of Brigitte Becker, Kim Knight, Therese Mauterer and Mary Mizell. In Second Place was the team of Pattie Blackwood, Toni Rossol, Judy Tauzin and a ghost player. And finally, in Third Place, in a scorecard playoff, the team of Margie James, Dolores Louvier, Janice Murray and Pat VanDer-vort. Margie James had a Birdie on Hole #4. So, until next month, as we continue to battle the elements just to play our favorite game, hit those drives long and straight and keep dropping those long putts.

third quarter. Noel's PAT pushed the score to 31-14. The Titans moved the ball sporadically on their first series until Spencer Cornell forced a fumble and recovered it near midfield. The Rocks went back to a heavy dose of Chapman as he had carries of 15, 2, 12, and 5 yards before Osborne hit Jackson Dicerbo with a 7-yard scoring toss with 4:15 left in the third quarter. Noel's PAT ended the scoring for SSC for the game with the Rocks out front 38-14. The Titans added a four yard scoring run with three minutes left to play. Brady Logan broke through to block the PAT leaving the final score

38-20. SSC head coach Nate Encrapera commented, "Our assistant coaches did a tremendous job getting our position groups ready to play tonight. We were able to do many of the small things right tonight and that helped. Also, when you have a weapon like Evan Noel, you have to put him in situations to be successful. Chandler Chapman is a back with the ability to anticipate what will be open and hit that hole quick and hard. He is a special player. Now, we have to get focused on West Marion and opening the season that means everything - division play. We let this one get away from us last year by not executing in the second half. We can't let that happen. We have to stay focused on the small things and execute."

The Rocks were led by Chapman who carried the ball 32 times for 315 yards and 3 touchdowns. Osborne was 6-for-13 passing for 92 yards and 2 touchdowns. On defense, the Rocks were paced by Spencer Cornell with 12 tackles and fumble recovery followed by Bruno Dall with 8 tackles with a pass break up and hurry. Brady Logan added 5 solo tackles, a pass break up and blocked PAT. This week the Rocks travel to West Marion to take on the Trojans. The series is tied at 1-1 with West Marion winning last year 26-20 in the final minute. This is the Division 8-3A opener for Saint Stanislaus while West Marion lost to Seminary last week 46-6. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Over the past 28 years, the monthly art walk — sponsored by the Old Town Bay St. Louis Merchants Association -- has become one of the most popular events in the region.

Tami Curtis Gallery

Located on the first floor of The Shops of Century Hall (112 S. 2nd Street), visitors will find the impressive collection of Tami Curtis’s original, colorful artwork within her gallery. Most of Tami Curtis’s art is based on the rich history, music, culture and nature of Louisiana. But the artist is perhaps best known for her paintings of iconic Southern musicians such as Freddie King, Louis Armstrong, Aretha Franklin and many others. “I do it because I don’t know anything else to do and am very grateful that I can make a living as an artist” stated Tami. Upon obtaining degrees in art education and graphic design, Tami started her fine art career full-time in 2004 in the New Orleans area. Then in 2018, Tami and her husband, Perry Guy, moved to Bay St Louis to set up home and her gallery. Tami Curtis Gallery has a vast collection of the artist’s pieces from original artwork, to Giclee prints, magnets, small and large greeting cards, matted prints, and oyster shell ornaments. But beyond her fine art, prints and products displaying the imagery, her husband is a writer and the couple create delightful children’s books as well. In celebration of Tami Curtis Gallery’s Hotspot status, Bradley Bones will be playing live music at the gallery from 4-7pm. Be sure to swing by the gallery this Second Saturday, visit with the talented artist and check out all of her amazing artwork.

Ruth’s Roots Community Garden

Known by many locals as their “happy place” is the one and only Ruth’s Roots Community Garden. As you approach Ruth’s Roots entrance, you’ll be greeted by a very energetic and colorful fence line. and interests including lots of local artwork, interactive sculptures, a butterfly house, a fish pond with running water, a variety of free little libraries, bunnies, chickens, bees, a blessing box (food pantry), and of course, rows and rows of raised flower and vegetable beds, and so much more.

In 2016, Ellis Deano was the youth court judge in Hancock County and had a desire to help the young people that came through the juvenile court program. Ellis’ vision was to provide an opportunity to inspire, educate and motivate the challenged kids while also giving back to the community. Her mission was extremely fruitful with over 30 teens successful in fulfilling their service hours with Ruth’s Roots by the time Ellis’ service as Hancock County judge came to an end in December 2017.

Even with the ending of the court gardening program, Ruth’s Roots has continued to flourish over the years. On most any given day you can find people exploring all the wonders Ruth’s Roots has to offer from families playing on the outdoor musical instruments, seniors having photoshoots with all the wonderful local artwork, couples enjoying a picnic under the shady oak, to children trying to sneak a peek into the bunny burrows. The garden is open 7 days a week, free of charge, and open to all.

The garden is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that is 100% funded by private donations and grants. Elise elaborated that “the community has responded in such a resounding way, and it is apparent when you visit. People donate time, food, plants, books - you name it. It’s pure magic.” This October Second Saturday, Ruth’s Roots Community Garden will be celebrating their HotSpot title with live entertainment from 4pm to 7pm at the garden. Be sure to make a stop by and show your support of this mystical spot in Old Town Bay St Louis and experience the magic for yourself.

SEA COAST ECHO

Artist, Candace Roszelle, will be the featured artist to celebrate years of dedication to the arts and our community. The event will take place on Saturday, October 8, 2022 starting at 4:00 p.m. at Gallery 220, 220 Main Street, Bay St Louis, MS.

far. Candace references techniques learned while attending Nicholls State University and works with building layers to create tangible, visible texture on her canvases. She spends countless hours in her home studio painting and working to convey emotions which she strives to express through brushstrokes. The 26th annual Cruisin' the Coast moves into Hancock County this Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Cruisin' the Coast kicks into high gear in Hancock

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The 26th annual Cruisin' the Coast is under way, and more than 9,000 classic cars have registered, and thousands of visitors from all over the country will be cruising their classic cars into Hancock County from now through Saturday evening.

"It's the 26th anniversary, which is very exciting," Hancock Tourism Director Myrna Green said last week. "We're expecting a big turn-out in Hancock County. People are ready to get out and do things that they can do outside. We're excited about the benefits it will bring to the county and to Old Town Bay St. Louis."

Cruisin' the Coast has been named the Number One Car Show in the United States.

Green said that hundreds more are expected to register on-site, and roughly one-third of the Cruisin' visitors each year are not even registered -- they're just here to see the cars.

PARTY TIME

Cruisin' the Coast -- billed by its organizers as "America's Largest Block Party" -- officially began Oct. 2 in Gulfport.

Car enthusiasts from 45 states plus Puerto Rico, Canada and Sweden drive to the Mississippi Gulf Coast once a year to showcase their rides and to cruise our beautiful 30-mile stretch of beach-side highway with designated stops in Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead, Biloxi, D'Iberville, Gulfport, Pass Christian and Ocean Springs.

BLESSING OF THE CLASSICS

The first Hancock County venue for this year's event opens today, Wednesday, Oct. 5 -- with the 10th annual Blessing of the Classics in Diamondhead.

Registered vehicles are invited to the staging area at Diamondhead City Hall beginning at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

At 4 p.m., they will drive their rides around a scenic route on Diamondhead Drive East and Lanai Drive where they will have their classic cars blessed by priests and pastors from different denominations

Diamondhead hosts 10th annual Blessing of the Classics

The city of Diamondhead will host its tenth annual Blessing of the Classics today, Wednesday, Oct. 5. The Blessing of the Classics first began in 2013 and has become a Cruisin' tradition.

SEA COAST ECHO

The city of Diamondhead will kick off 2022 Cruisin' the Coast festivities in Hancock County with the 10th annual Blessing of the Classics today, Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Since the original blessing's organizers -- Hank Holcomb, Wayne Cooper and the late Mark Duffy -- started the event in 2013, it has grown exponentially. It has become a family tradition not only for Diamondhead residents, who have "tailgate" parties out on their lawns as the classic cars roll by, but also for the Cruisers themselves, who return year after year.

"The cars just kept coming and coming," Duffy -- then still the chairman of the annual event -- said last year. "You'd have thought we were handing out hundred-dollar bills or something."

Registered vehicles are invited to the staging area at Diamondhead City Hall and then join the parade through the city to the Blessing Circle where each classic car will be blessed (non-denominational). Final stop will be the cruise-in block party at City Hall.

They will be instructed by many of the 100-plus resident volunteers working the event as to where and how to park in preparation for the start time.

Registered vehicles are invited to the staging area at Diamondhead City Hall beginning at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

At 4 p.m., they will drive their rides around a scenic route on Diamondhead Drive East and Lanai Drive where they will have their classic cars blessed by priests and pastors from different denominations.

Each participating car owner will receive a Blessing of the Classics commemorative certificate.

At the main stage, Monster Crawfish will perform from 1-4 p.m.; and the Beau King Band will perform from 4-7 p.m.

Come to the Depot grand opening and Mopar Day in Day

The city of Bay St. Louis cordially invites EVERYONE to a ribbon cutting ceremony of the historic Bay Depot Grounds on Wednesday, Oct. 5, beginning at 3:45 p.m., followed by an old-fashioned block party, with live music by Sons of a Beech from 4-7:30 p.m.

Cruisin' the Coast has always been a big deal in Old Town Bay St. Louis, but it's going to be even bigger this in the Bay's newly-renovated Depot Arts District, with a ribbon cutting ceremony on Wednesday and the third annual Mopar Da in Da Bay on Thursday.

The historic Bay St. Louis Depot grounds recently underwent a multi-million dollar renovation, designed and overseen by local architect Michael Reeves. The city will host a ribbon cutting event at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at the Depot, followed by a block party with live music by Sons of Uh Beech.

This year marks the third anniversary for the annual Mopar Day in Da Bay celebration at the Depot, which runs separate from -- but in conjunction with -- Cruisin' the Coast.

Mopar is the parts, service and customer care division of American automobile manufacturer Chrysler. The company first used the term in the 1920s, but muscle car enthusiasts use it to "brand" the company's Dodge and Plymouth vehicles from the late 1960s and early 1970s, such as the Dodge Charger and Challenger, and the Plymouth Barracuda and Roadrunner.

The event is hosted each year by Mopars on the Coast and the Big Easy Mopar Association. The event Thursday is scheduled from 9:30 a.m.-7 p.m.

Admission is "a smile and a hello," and there will be free jambalaya and pastalaya, give-aways and live music provided by Joni Compretta & Baytown Groove from 11 a.m.-2 p.m.; and Assumed Risk from 2:15-4:15 p.m.

"The event was previously held in Long Beach" Lonnie Falgout, executive director of the Alice Moseley Folk Art Museum at the Depot, said. "They were looking for a new venue. They approached me, and I gave them a tour of the Depot District. They fell in love with it."

Falgout said he and Hancock County Tourism Director Myma Green reach out to Hollywood Casino each year, which offers more than 100 hotel rooms.

"They give the Mopar visitors special rates to attract them to Bay St. Louis and Hancock County, and all of these people will be coming here and spending money locally, in the Bay and in Hancock County, at shops, restaurants, gas stations, you name it," Falgout said.

In addition to the live music, the Mopar club will also offer jambalaya and pastalaya to everyone beginning at around noon on Thursday.
